Possible answer

Last summer I spent my holiday in Great Britain. I had been looking forward to the trip for a long time.

When I arrived in London I headed for the National Gallery as I wanted to see some famous paintings. After that I went to Buckingham Palace where my friend was waiting for me. We had a rest in Green Park for a while and then we set off for the train journey.

Twenty minutes later we were sitting on a train to the Cotswolds, the area where my friend lives. I had a really wonderful time there.

For example, we visited a historic village called Painswick where there is a variety of small shops and galleries to browse around and had a cup of tea in the tea shop. I was astonished by the stone houses!

One day we decided to go to the farmer's market in the town. I hadn't seen so many home-made products and fresh vegetables before. My friend met there some neighbours and talked to them.

In the end of my holiday I bought some souvenirs and packed my luggage. After a couple of weeks I took a train to Paddington Station in London and then a plane to Prague. It was a fantastic experience!
